

Protect Legal Data, Minimize SaaS Exposure, Detect Threats

The Challenge: Growing SaaS Complexity Increases Security Risks

As law firms increasingly use SaaS platforms like iManage, Salesforce, and ServiceNow to handle sensitive client data, security risks are rising. Complex configurations, unique permissions, and frequent integrations expose firms to potential data breaches, unauthorized access, and compliance challenges under strict legal standards.

To safeguard this sensitive data, firms need strong, automated security controls and real-time detection capabilities that align with legal compliance requirements.
